Southern Tier Stocker Initiative Short Course

Interested in learning about stocker cattle? This course is designed for farmers of all experience levels to learn about managing stocker cattle (calves purchased in the spring, then sold to a finisher after adding weight using relatively inexpensive, excess pasture).

The course is set in two series. The first series begins on Sept. 30 followed by Oct. 28 and two evening sessions in November and December (to be determined). The second will be scheduled starting in late January/February. In-person sessions will be held at the Cornell Cooperative Extension office of Allegany County in Belmont. Cost per series is $100/person and $50/person from same family or farm. Fee includes lunch and all materials. To register contact:

Barb Jones, hjj6@cornell.edu, 607-255-7712

For more information contact:

ACFB Annual Dinner - October 12th

Come celebrate the accomplishments of the Allegany County Farm Bureau at our Annual Meeting held on Thursday October 12, 2017. This year’s meeting will be held at the American Legion in Wellsville, NY. The evening will start with Milk Punch served by the Allegany County Dairy Princess starting at 6:30pm, followed by a dinner buffet and program starting at 7 pm. This is a great opportunity to bring a fellow farmer or friend to see the benefits of Farm Bureau. Anyone is welcome, so please do not hesitate to invite others.

We would like reservations by Oct. 4. Reservations can be made with:

Robin Kellogg
3071 Pixley Hill Rd
Scio, NY 14880

Any questions or reservations can be directed to
Robin at (585) 593-4982.

ACFB Annual Meeting - October 12h	4

Every year, Allegany County Farm Bureau takes a chance to reach out to fairgoers to promote agriculture and discuss the benefits that Farm Bureau has for Allegany County. During fair week, Farm Bureau members took turns manning the Allegany County Farm Bureau booth. Allegany County Farm Bureau provided some excellent educational banners and promotional material was available for the taking. In order to make things more interactive, visitors challenged their knowledge of commodities and antique tools. It was because of this ingenuity that our booth received Best in Show, as well as the President’s Award.

We also attempted to get out and about on the fairgrounds interacting with agriculturist alike. This year, Allegany County Farm Bureau assisted to serve the Dairy Meal to the Open Show Dairy Exhibitors on Thursday, as well as provide coffee and donuts during the Open Beef Show on Saturday. Many attendees appreciated the gesture, and its always good to promote the Farm Bureau name.
